The Booneville Sentinel

Saturday night at approximately 10:45pm Sheriff Kelly Shouse, Chief Deputy Ivan Fletcher and Deputy Justy Wilson responded to a vehicle on its side in the west bound lane of KY 28. Upon arrival they found Kenny Gabbard, 59, of Booneville, KY was trapped inside the vehicle.

The officers immediately contacted the Owsley County Rescue Squad along with Allens Ambulance Service to ensure a safe extraction of Mr. Gabbard.

The Owsley County Rescue Squad had to use the jaws of live to remove the top of the cab from the pick-up truck. Due to the injuries sustained by the wreck, Allen's Ambulance then requested a helicopter for Mr. Gabbard to be transported for medical attention.

KY 28 was re-opened at approximately 12:15am. Sheriff Kelly Shouse would like to thank all of the first responders who was at the scene for their hard work.

Stolen Leaf Blower Recovered after 13 months

In February 2014 the Owsley County Sheriff's Office received a complaint from Bobby Frost that a leaf blower belonging to the Division of Forestry was stolen from his state vehicle. Officers has located the stolen leaf blower approximately 13 months later when Kelly Shouse received tip from an anonymous caller giving him the location.

Sheriff Kelly Shouse and Chief Deputy Ivann Fletcher recovered the property and logged it into evidence. An investigation is still ongoing by Ivan Fletcher and charges is pending.

OCHS Student To Attend National Youth Leadership Forum: Law & CSI

Frankie Baldwin, a 17 year old Junior at Owsley County High School has been invited to attend the National Youth Leadership Forum: Law and CSI, a six day summer program held in Washington DC, this upcoming summer. (July 20-30th) This is a wonderful opportunity for someone wanting to pursue a career in the law field. This trip will include tours of Washington DC, seminars over careers in Law and Forensic Science, mock trials as well as tours of various colleges. By attending NYLF, Frankie will be honored for her academic achievement, recognized for her leadership potential and take her place among top high school students from across the nation.

As of right now there is a GoFundMe Page for Frankie's expenses while there. These donations will cover the flight there and back and tuition (room, board, 2 meals a day, and transportation). With a goal of $3,621, there has so far been $610 raised in 17 days. If you wish to donate you may visit gofundme.com and search Travel to NYLF: Law and CSI.

McIntosh Arrested for PI and Possession of Marijuana

The Owsley County Sheriff's Office received a complaint on Thursday night at approximately 1:20 am that David K. McIntosh, 28 of Booneville, KY was at the door of Chanda Wilder, was knocking on her door and standing in her yard drinking.

Deputy Justin Wilson responded to the call. Upon arrival, Deputy Wilson observed the subject drinking a beer and had a pint of whiskey in his pocket. While placing the subject under arrest, a small piece of marijuana cigarette was recovered. McIntosh was arrested and charged with Alcohol Intoxication in a Public Place, 1st and 2nd Offense; Possession of Marijuana.

Promise Appalachia Leaderships Scholars (PALS) Urge You to Contact Your Senators!

Recently the funding for a program, Health Access Nurturing Developing Services (HANDS) has been cut. This is a free service for new and expecting families to help and assist them with the knowledge of caring for themselves and their child while expecting, all the way up til the child is two years of age. From evaluation results, HANDS, has proven to have achieved dramatic results for families who have participated! Earlier in the year, data was analyzed and those who participated in this program reported to have a 74% lower risk of infant mortality. Hospitals have also reported that participants are 50% less likely to visit the emergency room and 47% less likely to abuse or neglect their children. Therefore, the outcome of this opportunity has proven to have a substantial outcome of those who participated compared to those who don't. This is why we need to urge our Congress to renew the funding for this excellent program! It is available to whoever applies, and is a great way to assure your child a happy and healthy start in life! Any help to support this great cause is greatly appreciated.

Is snoring hurting your relationships?

Snoring can be a sign of sleep apnea, a serious and even life threatening disorder. It not only causes a drop in your blood oxygen levels, which places stress on your heart, but also keeps you from entering REM sleep, the most restorative stage of nightly sleep.

Want to get rid of your snoring?
Call 606-598-5104 today or visit manchestermemorial.org

Holy Family Catholic Church

will have the following church services during Holy Week. Palm Sunday Procession, Mass, and reading of the Passion will be on Saturday, March 28th at 5 p.m. Holy Thursday, Apr. 2 Mass will be at 5 p.m. On this day we remember the Last Supper when Jesus came the Eucharist to the apostles which was their First Communion Day. We also have the Washing of the Feet which commemorates Jesus washing the apostles' feet and helps us remember how we are to be of service to each other. We also process into the little chapel with the Eucharist. People are invited to come and spend some time there in prayer with Jesus as we remember the night he was betrayed, taken as a prisoner, and waiting for trial the next day.

Good Friday, our services will be at 5 p.m. when we remember how Jesus died on the cross for us. We read the Passion, pray for the needs of the world and our churches and people of different groups. Then we venerate the cross of Jesus and receive Communion without there being Mass on that day.

Easter Vigil is at 5 p.m. with blessing of the holy fire outside, a procession with the Paschal Candle which reminds us that Jesus has died and is soon to be risen from the dead. We hear the Exsultet which is a musical canticle telling of the many ways that God has been with us throughout salvation history. We have several Scripture readings from the Old and New Testament and then the baptismal water is blessed and if there are people to be baptized, this would happen this night. We are blessed with the Easter baptismal water and renew our own baptismal vows that were made for us at our Baptism. We have the rest of the Mass and receive the Eucharist and go forth to serve the community with many alleluias.

Come join us for any and all of these services! For more info, you can call 593-6948.

Lisa Mensah, Under Secretary for Rural Development, Visits PRTC

"It's nearly impossible to drive through a county in Kentucky without seeing USDA Rural Development's positive impact on the communities," stated Lisa Mensah, United States Under Secretary for Rural Development. Visiting Jackson County on March 3rd, Ms. Mensah met with representatives of Peoples Rural Telephone Cooperative, Inc. (PRTC) to learn more about how it was able to use the Broadband Initiatives Program to build a state-of-the-art, fiber-to-the-premise network.

Touring the PRTC offices, Ms. Mensah was impressed by the technology that enables residents of Jackson and Owsley Counties the same economic, educational and social opportunities available to residents in urban areas. Among those accompanying her on the tour were Tom Fern, USDA Rural Development State Director, Tim McNeilly, USDA Rural Development Coordinator, Vernon Brown, USDA Community Program Director, James Wilson, General Field Representative USDA RUS, Tom Higgins with Kentucky Teleworks, Carlos Cameron a Field Representative from Congressman Rogers office and Shane Gabbard, Jackson County Judge Executive. In addition to PRTC, Mensah visited other local businesses including the Guild of Artists and Craftsmen in Berea where she met with Jeanette Rowlett, the Guild's executive director and the nearly completed "Homeplace of Midway" senior living community.

At approximately 8:15pm on Saturday night Police Officer Thomas McIntosh responded to a wreck on Highway 11 north at Applegate Road. Corbit Chaney, from Beattyville, KY lost control of his car and hit the guardrail. Chaney was transported to KY River Medical Center for non live threatening injuries.

PRTC is a technological leader in the state of Kentucky. Just last fall PRTC was honored with the Smart Rural Community Showcase Award by NTCA—The Rural Broadband Association, that cited PRTC's advanced communications services and collaboration with local leaders in its service areas of Jackson and Owsley Counties, Kentucky as keys to its success. Serving this community since 1950, PRTC continues to make technological advancements that assist in the overall economic development of Jackson and Owsley Counties as well as providing its subscribers with advanced communications services. PRTC offers telephone, broadband and high definition television services across its fiber to the premise network that reaches everyone in the PRTC service area.

identifying the unknown beards) Wednesday- What colors are you wearing? What colors do you see in the dress? Black/blue or gold/white? Thursday-lunch with mayor Charles Long as he proclaims National Beta Week in Booneville. Friday- Nerd Day, students dressed as nerds.

Today's National Beta Club members are the innovators and leaders of tomorrow. Through academic achievement, service to the community, and building strong character, Beta is preparing the leaders of tomorrow.

About National Beta Club:

The National Beta Club is the largest independent, non-profit, educational youth organization in America. For more than 80 years it has prepared today's students to be tomorrow's leaders. Beta's mission originated with Dr. John W. Harris, a professor at Wofford College in Spartanburg, South Carolina, who founded the organization in 1934. Over 80 years have passed but his vision and Beta's mission has remained the same. "Let Us Lead Serving Others". ## Outdoor Truths by Gary Miller

In my early adult years, March and April meant crappie fishing. During those days I perused every bush and sunken tree in straight creek hollow to find my limit of that tasty fish. Most of the time I was the passenger in my friend's old fish and ski boat. Since we knew where most of the fish were, it really didn't matter how we got to them. And once we were there a good heavy anchor would keep us hovering in the right spot until we had either caught a few good ones or determined that we needed to move on. I think that's what makes crappie fishing so fun and accessible; it really doesn't matter what kind of boat you have or even what kind of accessories it is fitted with; one can still catch his limit with the right bait and a little patience. The right bait can be a small crappie fly or even a plastic jig, but to have the best chance, it needs to be tipped with a minnow. And sometimes, a minnow on a hook is all it takes.

It seems sort of ironic that in order to catch a big fish, the best bait at times can be a little fish. This not only goes for crappie but just about any fish. When you think about it, it seems that one species ought to be able to trust its own kind without fear of being devoured. But if you look at the animal world this is not unusual except when it comes to humans. We humans are different. Instead of physically devouring each other we tend to do it verbally or by simple acts of rejection or apathy. Our purpose is the same however. We think that we need to devour someone for either our own good or the good of our kind. We think it makes us bigger and thus better, and that we are doing a service if we rid our environment of the lesser individual whose sole issue is that they are different from us. The travesty however, is not when this happens by careless individuals but when it happens by those who do it the name of something good. The truth is, devouring each other doesn't make anyone better nor does it change one's ideas. It simply shows what one thinks about himself. No. It really reveals the person we really are – the same person that causes others to stay away for fear they may become bait.

Owsley County High School: Operation Preparation Activities March 30-April 2

Operation Preparation is a community-based volunteer advising effort scheduled for the month of March. It is a joint initiative of the Kentucky Department of Education and the Department of Workforce Development and provides a powerful opportunity for schools, students, parents and communities to collaborate in the college- and career-planning and advising process. This is the second year for the event.

Using a student's Individual Learning Plan (ILP), including career interest inventory and EXPLORE/PLAN results, volunteers will meet with 8th and 10th grade student in a public setting at school to talk about the student's career aspirations and required education/training; whether the student is on track to meet their goals; and whether the student is taking the courses recommended to prepare for a successful future.

Here is the listing of activities for Owsley County High School the week of March 30-April 2:

Monday, March 30, 2015 – Assembly for 8th and 10th graders. Panel of current college students with Q/A session for students from 9:00-11:00

Tuesday, March 31, 2015 – Field trips: 8th to Lee County Area Technology Center; 10th to the London campus of Somerset Community/Technical College

Wednesday, April 1, 2015 – Career Fair with volunteers from the community and College Fair with recruiters from local colleges as well as military branches: 12:30-2:30 at OCHS Cafeteria

Thursday, April 2, 2015 – Preparation of college essays during English classes. Parent/Student ILP meetings after school from 5:00-7:00. 8th and 10th grade students and parents are encouraged to attend.

If there is any community member that would like to come in and speak to students about his/her career and educational experiences, we would love to have you. Please contact the guidance office at the high school to let us know.

A Simple Man

by Margaret Faye Hensley

Column # 121

Clarence got out his box of military souvenirs and sat down to search for a special paper that he wanted to find. He had it on his mind to talk to his friend Buck about a particular weekend in Germany. Clarence found the liberty request form that he was looking for and placed it on the table by his phone. He wanted to have the paper there to look at when he called his friend on Monday. Clarence marveled at how long ago he was in the Army as he looked at the pictures of himself as a young man. When he looked at the black and white pictures he tried to think about all that was on his mind during those stressful days. He remembered thinking that he just wanted to survive and get back home in one piece. He knew it was his duty to serve his country and he took his responsibility seriously. He had kept a handful of letters from his mother and sisters and a former girlfriend. The letters were still in their respective envelopes and had yellowed after sitting in this same box for seventy years. He thought of how many times he had read the letters when he first got them. He had memorized the words and now as he read them he was surprised that he still could recite most of the letters word by word. He looked at the one from a high school girlfriend who said she had found someone else while he was away serving. He wasn't surprised to receive the letter and it was rather short and to the point. He had been expecting a goodbye letter from her. He figured she was so young and had a totally different life from him and they both needed to grow up and become adults before they became serious. Later on when he met Lorene, he was thankful that the high school sweetheart had been mature enough to break off their relationship. The letters from his mother had been updating him on what his siblings were doing. He tried to keep up with his other five brothers who were also in the military during World War II. His mother kept him abreast of where his brothers were. Four brothers had served in Europe while two had been stationed in the Pacific. Now it was a rule that not all of the male sons in one family could be in a war zone at the same time, but back when Clarence served there were no rules of that kind. All six brothers came back alive, but several of the men suffered long-term effects of the war they had been in. Clarence had accepted his good fortune to return to the USA and wanted to live his life to the fullest. As he put the keepsakes back into the box he knew he had done his very best to live each day and be a thankful person.

Wreck on KY 11 South

At approximately 7:30 am on Friday morning Sheriff Kelly Shouse and Chief Deputy Ivan Fletcher responded to a wreck on KY 11 South where a Pontiac Van had struck a light pole and went over an embankment.

No one was at the vehicle when the officers arrived. The officers contacted PRTC due to a broken telephone pole.

The officers then contacted Lou's wrecker service to remove the vehicle.

KY 11 South was reopened at 9:45 am.

Eastside Apartment News

by
Ruby Callahan

Hello once again from Eastside Apartments! Well, we have had several days of spring weather and I have enjoyed each one of them! The weather this week will have some rain and cool temps moving back in for a few days.

Becky, Flora and Claudette gave me a birthday dinner on Sunday. Flora was able to be out. She had been sick and in the hospital for a few days.

Please keep all of the ones who are sick in your prayers and those who have recently lost loved ones.

Bible Verse: "Be strong and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them: for the Lord thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee." (Deuteronomy 31:6)
Recipe: Potato Boats

5 lg. potatoes
1 pckg. Bacon
2 cups shredded cheddar cheese

Cut potatoes in ½ microwave till tender. Fry bacon until crispy and crumble. Place potato halves on baking pan. Cover potato halves with the bacon and top with cheese. Place in 350-degree oven till cheese melts.

UNDERSTANDING THE BIBLE

If you walk into a Christian bookstore, more often than not you will find dozens of versions of the Bible. Nearly all of them claim easier readability or have the interests of a particular customer in mind, such as a "youth Bible" or a "woman's Bible."

Regular readers of this column will know I use the King James Bible. If you look to the end of this column, you will always see the words, "All Bible verses are KJV." One of these days, I will explain why I only use the King James, but this week's column is about understanding the Bible.

Some people claim all the theses and theous are the reason for reading the Bible being difficult. Others will get bogged down in seemingly endless genealogies that go on for chapters at a time. Still others will read a chapter or two and quit because they didn't seem to understand anything the Scripture was saying.

I have heard these arguments and others, from people with all kinds of educations levels, high school dropouts to those with letters behind their name. With this being the case, one has to wonder if the problem is more than a lack of education or an unfamiliarity with 1611 English. The Bible is a spiritual book. Could the problem be a spiritual problem?

Upon salvation, a person receives the Holy Spirit from God. The Holy Spirit will dwell inside the Christian and abide with him forever (John 14:16-17). One of the jobs of the Holy Ghost is to guide us into all truth (John 16:13). We also know from the Scripture that the Word of God is truth (John 17:17). Putting all these pieces together, we come to this: All saved individuals have the Holy Spirit, and He will guide them in learning the truth of God's Word.

Paul explains this in greater detail in 1 Corinthians chapter two. Verses six through nine of that chapter describe how the wisdom of God and the wisdom of the world are two different things. He goes on to explain that it is the Holy Spirit that reveals the mysteries of God to the Christian, "But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God" (1 Corinthians 2:10). Verse eleven tells us, the spirit within us does determine what we can know, "For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? Even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God."

Here is an example of the "spirit of man." Every parent who has more than one son has asked, "Did you hit your brother." The child's response is, "No."

The young parent wonders, "Where did he learn to do this? We've taught him not to hit, and he knows not to lie about it."

No child needs to be taught to lie or to act out in violent way. It is something we all have within us; it is this "spirit of man" as the Bible says.

How do we know the things of man? The spirit of man is within us. How do we know the things of God? The Spirit of God must be within us.

Paul goes on to explain in verse twelve that we have received the Spirit of God, "that we might know the things that are freely given of us of God."

It appears clear the Scriptures are teaching a lack of understanding of the Bible is a spiritual problem, not a problem concerning education or comprehension issues.

Someone with the Spirit dwelling in them will not pick up the Bible read from Genesis to Revelation and know all there is to know about God and the Scriptures. Christ even told the Apostles, only hours before His death that He had many things to say to them, but they were not ready for them yet (John 16:12). Receiving things as we are ready is one reason we should read the Bible over and over. Read it every day and when you reach the end, turn back to the first page and start anew. Just as a school child will learn the basics of addition and subtraction before moving on to multiplication; a Christian will pick up new things every time they read the Bible. Like the apostles, maybe we are not yet ready for some things, but a year, two years, ten years from now we will.

Christians receive The Holy Spirit at salvation and He will guide us into all truth. Could it be that a lack of Biblical understanding is a salvation issue? Again, a person won't pick up the Bible and be an instant theologian, but there should be a basic understanding and growth along the way as He reads the Bible. The Spirit guiding Christians through the Bible is a promise of God that the unsaved does not receive (1 Corinthians 2:12-16).
